UNDERGRADUATE ADVISING

The GWSS undergraduate adviser can help you become a major or minor, add a second major (GWSS), help with choosing courses, track degree progress, evaluate transfer courses, and provide information and referrals to resources both on and off campus. From the Interdisciplinary Writing Studio (which is the writing center for GWSS), to undergraduate research funding opportunities, or if need should arise, help navigating the Hardship Withdrawal Petition, your GWSS adviser is here for you. Your GWSS adviser sees each student as a whole person so together, as needed, we will look beyond your academics to make sure that you have all the tools and support to get the most out of your experience at UW.

GWSS Advising is available September through June. Advising appointments are available for current and prospective students Monday - Thursday. You are also welcome to take advantage of drop in hours from Mondays 10:30-11:30 am and Wednesdays 3:30-4:30 (except the first Wednesday of each month) for shorter appointments. Please email gwssadvs@uw.edu to schedule an appointment or ask any other questions about our major, minor, or undergraduate courses.

Laura Marquez, Undergraduate Academic Counselor
Padelford B 110-K
206-543-6902
gwssadvs@uw.edu

GRADUATE ADVISING

For Graduate Studies procedures and protocols contact:

Catherine Richardson, Graduate Program Coordinator
206-543-6900
car945@uw.edu
Hours: Monday-Friday 8:00am-5:00pm (out for lunch 12:00-1:00)

The Graduate Manual has answers to many common questions about the program.

Source URL: https://gwss.washington.edu/advising